

Enhance sustainable urban drainage systems with biodiversity-focused solutions

Aim

Improving water management by increasing permeability, reducing waste, and integrating biodiversity-friendly drainage solutions

Stakeholders

Oxford City Council, housing associations, developers, and urban planners.

First Steps

- Fix water leaks and reduce water wastage.
- Implement rain gardens and floodplain attenuation ponds.
- Promote greywater reuse for non-drinking purposes.
- Explore the use of sewage as fertiliser or fuel.

For more information, visit our full report or contact iccscoordinators@maillist.ox.ac.uk

Funded by:

Implemented by:

