

Ensure inclusive access to the health and well-being benefits of green spaces

Aim

Expanding access to nature for all communities, promoting social diversity, and integrating health benefits into urban planning.

Stakeholders

City Council, university colleges, community groups, schools.

First Steps

- Redirect city council funding towards green space accessibility.
- Conduct school visits to raise awareness.
- Encourage partnerships between colleges and community groups to open up private green spaces.
- Launch a “Wellbeing on Wheels” bus to help residents access rural green spaces

For more information, visit our full report or contact iccscoordinators@maillist.ox.ac.uk

Funded by:

Implemented by:

